Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 09 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming largely dry overnight, staying cloudy. Further showers Saturday morning.

This Evening and Tonight:
This evening, most lingering showers will swiftly fade, with just the odd isolated shower remaining possible in areas overnight. Staying cloudy across the region. Further showers starting to develop in eastern areas towards dawn. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Saturday:
Showers forming across the region through the morning, some of these heavy, with a slight risk of thunder, especially in southern areas. Patchy cloud still allows for some sunny spells. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A continued pattern of showers through this period, staying cloudy with a few sunny spells. Still, an isolated risk of hail and thunder remains. Showers less frequent on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.